Learning Target Files [Weeks 1-4]:

For the following files, you should open the link and make a copy of said file per week of your C# learning. You should fill this out and drop it in the above Github link for Daniel to check for your progress. Name your files so he can easily recognize them using the format "weeknumber_name", so for week one, my file name would be "week1_neil".

Final Project [Weeks 5 & 6]:

For weeks 5 & 6 of our C# Learning, you will have to do the project at the end of the book. Finish the project and name it using the format "c#final_name". For example, my filename would be "c#final_neil". Commit the file in the above Github link for Daniel to check. Do not edit this file or anyone's committed file on Github. If you wish to change your commit, just recommit the file in the same area with the same name, or you can edit the raw file.
